

Merry Christmas

If I could genuinely understand the Love of God, I would never be the same. When I try to comprehend His love, I realize how far I need to go in even grasping it for myself. Even though I understand that there is so much more, I have great hope each day for more of it. There is a day coming while I am in the throne room of God that I will be standing in the very midst of that love. I'll never need to question or be concerned about anything ever again. Can you imagine what it will be like to be in His presence and to be fully saturated in His amazing Love?

It's a mission of my life to experience and to share this real love with every person I meet. Not the love that the world has to offer but a true love that can only come from Him because love from God is different than love from man. It's exciting to know that I don't need to wait until heaven to grow in God's love, I can begin now and walk in it every day of my life.

Eph 3:16-19 "that He would grant you, according to the riches of His glory, to be strengthened with might through His Spirit in the inner man, that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith; that you, being rooted and grounded in love, may be able to comprehend with all the saints what is the width and length and depth and height--to know the love of Christ which passes knowledge; that you may be filled with all the fullness of God."

Our Heavenly Father expressed all of His love for us inside of a tiny little baby born in Bethlehem. He also has made it possible for you and I to experience the depth of it right now. In the busyness of the holidays, let us remember what we are really celebrating; Christ, the entire embodiment of the love of God, wrapped up and laid in a manger. We are loved. Let's make sure to share that kind of Christmas Cheer!
